MARGARET ADSHEAD GETS FREE COURSE AT COLUMBIA UNIV.

Chosen by C.B.C. Musical Director G. Waddington

Another Didsbury high school student, Miss Margaret Adshead, has brought honour to our town and district, and has been offered a free course at Columbia University at New York.

The offer came following the recent Alberta Musical Festival in Calgary where Miss Adshead took in six local girls to participate. Following the rendition of several numbers by the Didsbury Sextette, Mr. Geoffrey Waddington, who has been musical director for all C.B.C. programs, interviewed Miss Adshead and asked if she would be interested in taking a special musical course at Columbia University, at New York, with all expenses paid except actual board, stating that he had picked her for this honor after many months of scouting for talent.

The course offered is a full term course lasting from two to four years, and Miss Adshead is in New York now, with all expenses paid except actual board, stating that he had picked her for this honor after many months of scouting for talent.

Miss Baynton of Calgary Present at Gathering

The Senior C.G.I.T. under the leadership of Miss Margaret Sinclair, held the annual mother and daughter banquet in the basement of Knox United Church on Wednesday evening last.

Each girl was accompanied by her mother or guardian and the banquet was prepared by the girls themselves.

Just before the banquet started each girl pinned a pink carnation to her mother's lapel.

Special speaker for the evening was Miss Jean Baynton of Calgary.

The toast to the Mothers was proposed by Betty Erickson and responded to by Mrs. Dave Sinclair.

Other numbers on the program were: Poem "To My Daughter" read by Jane Parsons; Small Skit, which gave the life of a girl in three stages; first day at school, tom boy stage; first date. The girl's part was taken by Lois Davies, and the boy's part by Margaret Adshead.

DIRECTORS OF AGRICULTURE SOCIETY TO MEET SATURDAY

A meeting of the Directors of the Didsbury Agricultural Society will be held at the office of C.E. Reiber, Didsbury, on Saturday, June 9th, at 2:00 p.m. As the local fair takes place about the third week in July considerable business is to come up at this meeting and they are urged, as a director, to attend.

NOTES FROM THE EAST

The next W.I. meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Floyd Ahlgren in place of Mrs. Hughes. We are very sorry Mrs. Hughes is unable to attend but will be improved in health before long.

Mrs. B.A. Woods, our delegate to the Edmonton Conference, returned home after spending a very enjoyable time. She also brought back a bit of good news for our W.I. The house dress which won the prize at the contest was also won.

First award was given to Mrs. Altha Topley, the owner and maker of the dress.

Mrs. and Mrs. Ivan Clindinen, Bernice Schumaker, had their wedding dance at the Lone Pine Hall Friday, June 1st. There was a very large crowd as well as a number of friends and relatives from Calgary. The bride and groom were the recipients of many gifts. We wish the newly-weds happiness and success.

The Lone Pine Hall committee is putting on a dance on June 15th. Torrington music. Everyone welcome.

Don't forget the dance and woodwork auction sale, fishing pond, etc. to be held at the Burnside school this Friday, June 8. Proceeds to aid Junior Red Cross. Ladies please bring lunch. Everybody welcome.

Mrs. Harold Sheils is spending a few days in Hanna this week.

The telephone lines have been in such poor order out the east way that when we ring central we are never quite sure who we might get. Sometimes it's Didsbury, sometimes someone on another line, or even your next neighbor will be answering you. The windows seem to have really caused a great deal of damage to the line.

We are very glad to report that Hugh McLean is much improved. He has nearly got the best of the "rhubarb" and has been running the tractor again.

Patrons are reminded that no unwrapped meat, fruit or vegetables will be accepted for storage in lockers.

Hours at which lockers will be open for putting in or taking out articles are as follows:

Daily except Sundays and holidays 8:00 to 12 a.m.; 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. Wednesdays, 8:00 to 12:00 a.m.

DAIRY CALF CLUB MET AT CLAUDE WEBB FARM

Last Saturday the Dairy Calf Club met at the home of their farthest east member, Claude Webb, south of Sunnyslope. There were 23 members present, who were transported in cars by Mr. McPhail, Tom Morris, B. Atkinson and W.E. Stiles.

The young dairymen judged classing of Heine cows, calves and heifers, both written and orally, after which Mr. McPhail gave the correct placings. Club members were then shown through the Webb dairy barn, with its electrical conveniences, as this is in the district where the Calgary Power company are testing out the Rural Electrification scheme for Alberta.

A business meeting followed at which it was disclosed that the Dairy Association will possibly provide special prizes for the calf club exhibition. Plans were laid to have the next meeting take the form of a picnic at the Rural School of Agriculture in June.

A softball game followed after which the Webb family served a hearty lunch.

Winston Churchill

AS THE WAR IN EUROPE became a part of the past, certain personalities and events stand out clearly when we recall that long and desperate struggle. To the people of the Allied nations, and particularly to those of the British Empire, the figure of Winston Churchill will remain a symbol of the courage and determination which brought us to final victory. Long before it was generally realized that Nazi Germany was preparing to destroy the peace of the whole world, Mr. Churchill had foreseen what was to happen, and had warned the British people of this approaching danger. His warnings were not heeded at that time, but in May, 1940, when Germany had conquered almost all of Europe and an invasion of Britain appeared imminent, he was called upon to lead the government.

People Inspired By His Oratory

When he took office, Mr. Churchill did not permit the serious situation caused by the fall of France and the evacuation of the British Army from Dunkirk, to alter his determination to continue the war against Germany. He declared that British policy would be "to wage war by sea, land and air with all our might and with all the strength that God can give us." This was the first of many stirring messages which inspired the people of the Empire and of all the freedom-loving nations, to have hope and faith that Germany would some day be defeated. Striking passages from his wartime speeches have been quoted so often that they might now be considered to be immortal, and there is no doubt but that these speeches will live on in English history and literature.

Leadership In World Affairs

Mr. Churchill inspired the people of Britain and of the Empire with courage and hope during what may have been the darkest hour in our history. In international affairs, his leadership has been equally wise and courageous. When Russia was attacked, he undertook to establish closer and more friendly relations between that country and his own. He likewise did much to strengthen Anglo-American relations, which are so important both in war and in peace. By his personal friendship with the leaders of Russia and the United States he helped greatly to foster the complete unity of purpose which was necessary to bring the enemy to the point of unconditional surrender. Without doubt Mr. Churchill will be as well known to future generations as he is to us today, for his great and gallant leadership during one of the darkest periods of history.

Kept In Caves

Britain's Art Treasures Will Soon Be On Display Again

Britain has begun to "unearth" her art treasures from their secret wartime hiding places. Soon they will be displayed again their splendor untouched—in their old homes throughout the country, says the London Daily Mail. Sir Kenneth Clark, Director of the National Gallery and Surveyor of the King's Pictures, has been to see them in caves in a Welsh mountainside. In caverns as big as parish churches and two feet below ground, Rembrandt's "Jewish Rabbi," Velazquez's "Venus and Cupid," the Rubens "Venus," Titian's "Bacchus and Ariadne," Tintoretto's "Origin of the Milky Way" have remained undisturbed for more than five years. Sir Ken has Turner's "Bridge of Sighs" and his famous water colors and examples of all the modern foreign schools, including Van Gogh, Gauguin, and Matisse—with hundreds of other priceless works.

A GENEROUS GIFT

Sir James Dunn, president of the Algoma Steel Corporation, Sault Ste. Marie, has turned over the property known as Cedarhurst to the Canadian Red Cross as a well-deserved home for returned soldiers. Cedarhurst is a beautiful property on the brow of the hill overlooking the expense of the St. Mary's river.

A Simple Solution

Children In U.S. Town Found Easy Way To Settle Difficulty

Children have the gift of solving things directly, easily and sometimes brilliantly. They do not refer questions back to dubious standards and they ignore precedents. Something happened recently in Germantown, Pennsylvania, which perfectly illustrates this peculiar gift we heard of it through a friend. In Germantown there are two schools, one predominantly colored, one predominantly white. The gangs of little boys from the two schools often play together. One day they invented a new game called Race Run, but when they got assembled to play it they discovered that there were more white boys than colored boys. Clearly the thing was out of balance and unfair. What to do? Like a flash the children had the answer. The proper number of white boys promptly volunteered to play colored, and the race riot proceeded with even numbers in perfect equality. Adults, we feel, would have had the devil's own time with a situation like that. The New Yorker.

Cleaning Blitzed Areas

German Prisoners Of War Have Started Work In Britain

German prisoners of war in Britain have started to clear blitzed areas in preparation for housing sites. In a few months it is expected more than 500,000 prisoners will be employed in the task. Unions have agreed on rates of pay and hours of work and the ministry of work has said that not one British workman will be out of a job because of the plan.

Since the fall of 1939, more than 30,000 Canadians have been the victims of tuberculosis and at least 75,000 were affected by the disease.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—Am I allowed to increase the rent on my house? I have spent quite an amount of money on it on improvements.

A.—If expenditure for improvements amounts to not less than 10 per cent. of the assessed value of the premises, then a landlord is entitled to apply to the rentals appraiser to increase the rent. You are not permitted, however, to raise the rent without permission being first received from the Rentals Department of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Q.—Every time I buy meat I seem to pay a different price for exactly the same thing. Would you give me a list of ceiling prices for the various cuts?

A.—Every butcher is forced to display price charts in a prominent place so that all meat prices can be checked by the customer before purchasing. If charts on meat prices are not displayed, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board should be notified.

Q.—Will our graduating class be permitted to wear long gowns for the graduation exercises this June?

A.—At the present time the long gowns displayed in stores are to be purchased only by brides or members of religious orders. If the Board permitted the manufacture of long dresses, it would involve not only the one-and-a-quarter yards added to each dress, but the extra yards for the slip as well. The textile situation is increasingly serious.

Q.—Are visitors from the United States entitled to ration coupons?

A.—Visitors from the U.S. who require temporary ration cards may obtain them on application to a local ration board, providing U.S. visitors are going to remain in Canada five days or longer.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumer's News" or "The Book in which you keep track of your ceiling prices" mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Home Decoration

Color Is An Important Item In Interior Work

Color is one of the most important phases of home decoration, and paint supplies the cheapest and best means of bringing color to a home. It was stressed by speakers at a series of McGill University lectures on "Building and Equipping a Home."

Color can be used to make a room look wider or narrower, higher or lower, small or more spacious, at the desire of the occupier, said Edith Shuter, well known Montreal interior decorator. Nevertheless, she stressed that hard and fast rules regarding color and color combinations can't be laid down, since colors that cheer one person might have special associations that depress others.

"Confidence in color comes with knowing just what it will do and how to make it do it," said Miss Shuter. "You will never have to shy away from a strong color, or a clear interior shade, if you know exactly how much of it to use, what to use it with, and what effect it will have on its surroundings."

GEMS OF THOUGHT

THE GOSPEL

Jesus went about all Galilee teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of diseases among the people. Matthew 4:23.

So comprehensive are the dictates of the gospel, that they involve all moral truth known by man; so extensive are the precepts, that they require every virtue, and forbid every sin.—Warren.

The shifting systems of false religion are continually changing their places; but the gospel of Christ is the same forever. Ogilby.

My heart has always assured and reassured me that the gospel of Christ must be a divine reality. Mary Baker Eddy.

The divinity of St. John's Gospel brings to view overwhelming truths of revelation, and its spirit is baptismal; he chronicles this teaching. A new resurrection I give unto you. That ye love one another.—Mary Baker Eddy.

There is not a book on earth so favorable to all the kind and to all the sublime affections, or so unfriendly to hatred, persecution, tyranny, injustice, and every sort of malevolence as the gospel.—Beattie.

Canada's Forest Wealth

Includes Principal Resources Of Softwoods Within The British Empire

Canada's forests cover an area of 1,220,000 square miles, or more than one-third of the total land area of the country. The accessible productive portion of the forests covers 420,000 square miles, and it is from this area that the whole output of sawlogs, pulpwood, fuelwood, and other primary products is obtained. About 340,000 square miles of forests, classed as productive but not at present accessible form a reserve for the future when transportation systems may be more highly developed. By far the larger part of the world demand for wood is for softwood, or coniferous, species. Canada possesses the principal reserves of softwoods within the British Empire, and these include large supplies of the most desirable varieties—spruces, Douglas, fir, western hemlock, western red cedar, and white, red and other pines. In addition, the eastern provinces furnish hardwoods such as birches, maples and elms, which are particularly useful for special purposes.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Here a CWAC There a CWAC

MEET A CWAC—

"The Littlest CWAC" is probably the title most applicable to diminutive, four-foot eight and one-half inch Pte. Gladys Freest of North Battleford, Sask. Four foot eight and one-half inches of CWAC, according to military data that is but the little in question lays claim to four foot nine inches—"with my shoes on," she confesses. For the first few months after joining the army in June 1943, she was the quarter-master stores greatest headache. Pte. Freest, however, got a uniform small enough for her and now she proudly trips about in her smartly fitted outfit and neat little pair of "Size Ones." Her shoes and the care of her feet are especially important to Pte. Freest since dancing is her career. Her specialty is an acrobatic ballet, the routine entirety of her own creation. Besides being a dancer, she is qualified as a psychiatrist, stenographer and it was this special qualification that led to her enlistment in the CWAC. Born in Boston at an early age. Her only brother is in the navy.

Man in Next Row—And is it any business of yours what I'm telling my wife?

Cyril—You may spurn me, but remember I shall not always be a clerk at $20 a week!

Marie—That's just the trouble. You may lose your job at any time.

Husband—What extravagance! You have two hats to match that one dress.

Wife—Oh, no, I haven't. I've only one dress to match the two hats.

"You told that man it was five minutes' walk to the station, and it's a good twenty minutes."

"Yes, but he was nice and polite and he seemed so tired."

He (nervously)—Elizabeth, darling, there is something that has been troubling on my lips for months and months.

She—Yes, so I see; why don't you shave it off?

Missionary—And do you know nothing whatever about religion? Can't you tell me what a taste it is when the last missionary was here.

"Jim recommended that new restaurant to me if I wanted some good roast beef."

"How was it?"

"It was a hum steer."

Daughter—Only Myrtle, Dad.

Dad—Well, tell Myrtle she left her pipe on the piano.

Believes That The Future Of Canada Will Rest With Our Returning Overseas Soldiers

(By Ross Munro)

GEN. CRERAR said in a message that his 1st Canadian Army is about to dissolve and that he believed the future of Canada rests in the hands of Canadian overseas soldiers who will be returning home. "It will be a grand future should they be given the opportunity in peace to prove and practice the admirable characteristics they demonstrated in war," he added.

Text of his message:

V-E Day at long last has arrived. The business we Canadians came over here to do is virtually finished. There will yet be quite a lot of tidying up to complete, but the military might of Hitler's Germany is a horror of the past. The world definitely has been delivered from domination by Hitler and his pack of gangsters. And in this prolonged and bitter struggle, now crowned with victory, the army of Canada has played a stirring part. Canadians everywhere are entitled to be very proud of their soldiers.

I am certainly proud beyond words to count myself one of them. It has been a great inspiration and a great challenge to one's capacities to be a commander of such men. I have never met a Canadian commanding officer who has regarded his responsibilities otherwise. The very best one has been able to give them has never been as complete as one would have wished.

Yet the compelling urge to be fully worthy of these responsibilities has shown itself during all our operations in the outstanding conduct of the Canadian commanders—senior and junior, brigadier and lieutenant-colonel, sergeant and corporal. They have led their men in battle. They have never spared themselves. Also they have paid the full price—knowing beforehand that whatever it might be it would be worth the payment.

We have reached the time when the great and gallant company which has formed the 1st Canadian Army is about to dissolve. By group and by units, with anticipation and joy in their hearts (inspired by memories of friends they have lost), the Canadians who survived will be returning home to Canada.

I believe the future of Canada rests in their hands. It will be a grand future should they be given the opportunity in peace to prove and practice the admirable characteristics they have demonstrated in war.

What makes a fighting unit, fighting division or magnificent army? I will tell you in a few words. First of all a cause worth fighting for and if necessary, dying for. Secondly, good, intelligent strong men. Thirdly, capacity of its individuals for teamwork which means willingness to subordinate self for the benefit of the side. Fourthly, determination to win through. Finally, knowing it being taught how to fight effectively.

We have had these advantages inherited or obtained in the 1st Canadian Army. As a result we took, however difficult and whatever the operations, has ever failed to have been accomplished by Canadians in this war.

The individual and collective factors I have mentioned are tremendous assets in making of a great nation. If Canada in peace can realize these fine potentialities of her citizens and can encourage their expression there is no limit to its future.

"Each for all" has been the guiding principle of the Canadian army in battle. That same principle is the essential one to which we must adhere if we are to assure the life and growth of democratic government in the world that community system which has been so eloquently described by Abraham Lincoln as "government of the people, by the people, for the people." Soldiers of Canada have worked to it in war. Citizens of Canada can do no less in peace.

EVERYONE KNOWS THEM

Harry Fitzgerald was late for dinner at his brother's house in Hollywood one night last week says The New Yorker, and when he finally arrived, he was furious. People, he said, had detained him at his house. "What kind of people were they that detained you?" his brother asked. "They were the kind of people," said Mr. Fitzgerald, "that when they stand up, they think they've gone."

SOMETHING NEW

Room service by airplane from Buffalo, N.Y., caused a predicament for 25 officials attending an American Air Lines conference in Toronto. Unable to obtain meals because of V-E Day celebrations, they telephoned Buffalo. Less than an hour later a plane, making a scheduled trip, arrived with thermos bottles of hot chicken plate, salad and dessert.

Newest Jet Planes

With Fewer Instruments And Fewer Controls Make Flying Simpler

Simultaneously have come British and U.S. air announcements of the new "jet" planes they have developed. The R.A.F.'s new machine is the Meteor; the Americans' the P-80 or Shooting Star.

What these aircraft will do is still largely a secret, but enough has been revealed to show that in speed, climb range and economy of operation they are superlative. The jet engine, or gas turbine, as it is more properly called, weighs only half as much as a gasoline engine of similar power. The jet engine is simplicity itself, and can be replaced in 15 minutes. Jet flying is simpler, with fewer instruments and fewer controls.

This latest development in aeronautical engineering may have a strong impact on human life. Consider only two possibilities. First, the jet plane burns kerosene, not high test gasoline. If the engine is developed to a point where it is more efficient than the present gasoline-powered aviation engine, it will mean a complete conversion of aircraft engine factories, their processes and products.

Second, the jet plane may cause the oil-refining business to go back to the coal oil age in order to bring itself level with the jet turbine age that lies ahead. There are surely tremendous possibilities ahead and automobile engineers are frank to admit that they don't know where the gas turbine principle will lead—Christian Science Monitor.

New Kind Of Glass World's Largest Tires

It Absorbs Heat Rays And Kills Flies

By accident, a Birmingham scientist, Dr. W. M. Hampton, has discovered a glass which kills off flies like a death ray and which, it is thought, may become standard equipment in the post-free panties of tomorrow.

Dr. Hampton insists that he still does not know exactly why it is that light when filtered through his glass will kill flies. He explained that he started to evolve this particular kind of glass at the request of the admiralty who required a "non-aquatic" substance to protect lighter-than-air observation craft.

The result was what Dr. Hampton termed his "3A anti-fly"—a new form of rolled glass which would absorb heat rays. It had a bluish tinge and its first test was in the window of an abattoir.

The first hot day people commented on the " eerie " coolness experienced beneath the windows fitted with "3A anti-fly". The next day many dead flies were noticed on the floors beneath the windows.

The new glass is still killing flies in experiments—but none of the scientists who have examined it can explain why.

Made Of Synthetic Rubber Have Treads Five Inches Thick

The world's largest tires, each having 140 tons as much synthetic rubber as the average passenger car tire, was announced by the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

Each weighing more than most automobiles, the giants are used on earth-moving equipment in construction of military airports and highways. Doubling the speed at which these projects can be handled, these tires have a priority equal to that of artillery tires.

The four worst enemies of synthetic rubber, it was said, have been overcome by a special cord construction against impact, now strengthening materials to prevent cutting rayon cord to combat heat, and a hair thin layer of natural rubber between plies to prevent separation of the layers.

The largest is 9½ feet high and more than three feet wide. Each tire contains three miles of piano wire and has a tread more than five inches thick.

There are 34 plies in contrast with four used in most automobile tires. The scrapers mounting these tires carry 60 cubic yards, or the equivalent of 24 large truckloads of earth.

Sault Ste. Marie Locks Were Closely Guarded And Heavily Defended Against Any Attack

SAULT STE. ### Goes By Names

There Are Only Names In Chinese Telephone Book

Austin F. Cross, special correspondent of the Ottawa Evening Citizen tells this story. The China town telephone exchange is certainly one of the oddest ones in San Francisco. There are 2,300 Chinese telephone numbers in the Chinatown exchange, and not one of them has a number in the Chinatown telephone book. They all go by names. Thus, if you get the Chinatown exchange, you ask for Sing Lee. The girl gives you Sing Lee. If there are two Lee's, then you indicate which one. But here's the incredible part: Every one of the 2,300 Chinese telephone numbers is known by heart. If she can't memorize that many, she can't get the job.

Imagine getting fired for knowing only 2,000 telephone numbers in Ottawa, and being regarded as inefficient because you don't know the 2,300. Yet the girls here have to know them all.

The Chinese telephone book does not list the subscribers alphabetically, because as the supervisor in charge Mrs. Pansy Tam, explained, the Chinese have no alphabet.

Instead, they go by streets; of course, you have to know Chinese to be able to make head or tail of the book, but the Chinese handle it easily. Over in Oakland, however, the girls are not so familiar with the names. So the Oakland Chinese are listed by streets, with the English equivalent at the top of the page. There is one street in Chinatown that is not called by its American counterpart at all. That's Grant Avenue, Chinatown's main street. They just call it in Chinese "Chinese Street".

The younger switchboard girls affect the modern costume, short skirts, high heels, lipstick and hobbys. The older ones still wear the long black Chinese gowns, with their black hair tied in a severe knot at the back.

It is funny to hear them talk. For five minutes at a time, it will be stilted Chinese. Then in crisp clear American, you get: "Ks Brook 7735 ok" or "Here's your party." The girls jump from Chinese to English in a split second.

Architecturally, the place is beautiful. The Bell Telephone Company has thoughtfully tastefully housed its Chinatown exchange in a lovely lacquered one-story pagoda.

Hitler Mementoes

Twelve Copies Of "Mein Kampf" Were Found In A Safe In His Private Home

They were disappointed faces in the United States 149th Infantry when one of its mechanics opened Hitler's safe in his private home on Aussen Prinz Regentin Strasse at Munich.

Instead of the expected documents—possibly even the fifties will—they found only 12 copies of the first edition of "Mein Kampf," most of them autographed. Otherwise there was not a scrap of paper in the safe.

But under the residence was found one of the most modern and bomb-proof cellars in all Germany. The shelter, according to the caretaker, was constructed only after the war began. Seven-inch steel plates, embedded in four-foot-thick concrete, made up the ceiling. Every room was separated from the next by steel doors. There was a modern little electric kitchen, a small but comfortable bedroom and several small underground living rooms.

The more one studies Hitler's various hideouts, the more one realizes how deceptively official propaganda built him up as a simple man of the people, whose personal wants were the most modest and whose every hour was so concentrated upon Germany's welfare that he had no time for private life.

Unknown to most residents of Munich—Hitler had maintained his sumptuous private residence there since 1929 while pretending to live either at the reichschancellery in Berlin, the mountain retreat on Obersalzberg, above Berchtesgaden, or in the pretentious, secluded Fuehrerhaus on Munich's Koenigsplatz.

The two locks—one in Ontario, one in Michigan, across the St. Mary's river from one another, until little more than a year ago were among the most strongly defended spots on the Continent, an indication of fears in Washington and Ottawa the Germans might gamble a suicide attack, possibly from the Hudson Bay area, in knowledge of the effect its success would have. But only the surrender of Germany makes it possible to ignore ownership and tell the story even now.

Through their locks, four of the five are on the U.S. side—the greatest traffic of iron ore in the world poured from the Mesabi ranges of northern Michigan and Minnesota to blast furnaces and steel plants of the eastern United States and Canada. An average of 90,000,000 tons of ore are passed through annually in wartime, in addition to millions of tons of Canadian grain, heading out across the Great Lakes for the breadbaskets of Europe and the Allied armies.

It was shortly after Pearl Harbor, December, 1941, that American preparations really began. Their Fort Brady expanded its facilities to take care of, not 300, but 12,000 troops, including anti-aircraft gunners, balloon barrage battalions, artillery and infantry.

By the spring of 1942 barrage balloons were a common sight. American negro troops installed balloon sites on the Canadian side as well as the American. The entire area containing the two cities—Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., has a population of 25,000. Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., 12,000—was studded with searchlights, synchronized with anti-aircraft guns. Generators were set up to hide the canals in a smoke screen.

American forces outnumbered Canadian troops even on the Canadian side. American negroes were the first to cross into Canada but they were later succeeded by white troops.

Emigration of 5,000,000 Britons to satellite towns in the British Commonwealth, to which English towns would act as "big brothers," is envisaged in a memorandum presented to the Manchester and district regional planning committee. # JOBS ASSURED BEFORE DEMOBILIZATION

A Square Deal for Veterans Assured by Progressive Conservatives

The very first clause of the Progressive Conservative plans for the re-establishment of Veterans, adopted at the National Convention of December, 1942, is as follows:—

DEMOBILIZATION

In carrying out the demobilization of Canada's Armed Forces the primary consideration should be the interest of those who have served. Demobilization should be based on the principle that members of the Armed Forces should not be discharged until their economic security is assured by placement in gainful employment or by assisted training and education to that end.

Here, in this simple statement of progressive, realistic policy is the only true solution of the fundamental problem by which every ex-service man and woman is faced. It is the only assurance of a square deal for all veterans. It is the very basis of the Rehabilitation Policies of the Progressive Conservative Party. No veteran will be discharged against his will until he is assured of a decent livelihood.

"Platitudes will not fill empty stomachs," declares John Bracken, "nor generalities provide jobs for those who have fought, nor wordy determinations about sacrifice ease the load of the widows and children whose husbands and fathers gave life itself that we might live in peace and security."

Throughout the war, Canadian service men and women have had their fill of platitudes and generalities.

Let our veterans now ask themselves this question: Does the spirit of political partisanship which the King Government has consistently manifested in time of war, offer any assurance of a square deal for veterans in time of peace? Does the iniquitous manpower policy which split Canada apart reflect the right spirit? Remember in war, as in peace, political policies infallibly indicate party principles.

It is significant that more than half of the Progressive Conservative candidates are service and ex-service men. No other party can even approach this record. These men know that no other party has such realistic and comprehensive plans for rehabilitation. They know that the Progressive Conservative Party is the service men's party.

They know that John Bracken, father of three sons on active service, understands the problems, the hopes and the fears of veterans.

They say, with John Bracken

"The cost of winning the war and the cost of re-establishing those who fought in it, is one and indivisible. In the plainest words at my command, I say to you that nothing short of full-time gainful employment for every man and woman who has worn the Canadian uniform will be acceptable. Every man and woman must be given an opportunity to earn a good living. If existing enterprise cannot do this, the State must, and will."

These service and ex-service candidates, with John Bracken, pledge themselves that, under no circumstances, will existing benefits to veterans be lessened. On the contrary, they will be increased and extended.

They, with John Bracken, pledge themselves to revise an out-moded pensions act, to humanize its administration, to eliminate red tape and inexcusable delays. Pension rates will be reviewed at once and increased to bring them in line with higher living costs.

Under a Progressive Conservative government, reserved condition of personnel on enlistment will be accepted as sufficient proof in determining disability pension. The veteran will be entitled to the benefit of the doubt.

The "first in, first out" principle will be followed on demobilization — with a job at decent pay assured to the veteran when he returns to "civvy" street.

In the words of our leader, of the Progressive Conservative Party,

"accept the challenge to demonstrate to you who fought that you shall not be handicapped in days of peace because you responded to the nation's call in days of war."

SOLDIERS' REHABILITATION COURSES AT UNIVERSITY

Col. E.H. Strickland has been appointed Director of Rehabilitation Courses for returned soldiers. Hundreds of soldiers have already indicated an intention to study at the University, and the university may be forced into a quarter or three-term system to take care of them.

By a three-term system, students could enter and begin work in September, January or May. Accommodation and staff are already taxed to the limit, and the University faces great difficulties.

Special arrangements are now being made to house the wives of married returned soldiers in the vicinity of the University.

MR. COLDWELL SAYS:

The following letter appeared in a recent issue of the Huntsville, Ont., Forester, and is reprinted here for your pleasure.

This is the Promised Land.

Editor, Forester: I recently ran across the following utopian plans of the C.C.F.:

"I pledge myself to the C.C.F. party and to all bureaucrats. One party indispendible, and special privileges to all."

Four thousand years ago Moses said to his people: "Pick up your shovels, load up your asses, mount your camels, and follow me to the Promised Land."

Four thousand years later Coldwell said to the Canadian people: "Throw down your shovels, sit on your asses, light up your camels, this is the Promised Land."

MUST NOT ALLOW LIVE STOCK ON HIGHWAY

Livestock straying upon highways are always a menace to traffic and farmers allowing their stock to roam on roads, whether district or secondary, or main highways, are liable to heavy penalties. Conviction on a first offence carries a penalty up to $20.00 and costs, second offence $50 and costs, and third offence $100 and costs.

TANTALUM DISCOVERED IN CANADA

Tantalum, a wonder metal, has been found 70 miles east of Yellowknife off the shore of Great Slave lake.

It is the only metal which is at home in the environment of the human body. It will not corrode or cause infection, or harm human tissues. It can be substituted for a piece of bone and remain unobtrusively in its place throughout life. It is used to make forceheads, round out shattered skulls, substituted for leg bones. Skin will grow on it. It is the boon of plastic surgery.

It can be drawn into wire so fine as to be almost invisible to the human eye, one one-thousandth of one inch; wire so fine that it may be successfully used in stitching together nerves shattered by emotional strain. And it remains there non-corrosive; it has no harmful effects.

Its cutting edge is keener than the keenest steel. Its cutting edge in the machine industry survives a month, where the hardest steel will last only a few hours without sharpening.

This is tantalum carbide. As a component of surgical instruments there is no substitute.

$4,000 RAM

Winnipeg—A pair of Corriodale stud two-shear rams, valued at $4,000 each, passed through Winnipeg a few days ago on C.N. lines, on the last leg of a long journey. They were placed aboard a Canadian freighter at Wellington, New Zealand, several weeks ago and were consigned to buyers in New York and Ohio states.

The valuable animals, in splendid condition after their long sea voyage, were given special care by the Canadian National Express for the balance of the journey.

THE POLITICAL PARTIES AND TARIFFS

(By H.G.L. Strange)

It seems rather sad to me, as I look over the published platforms of our various political parties, to notice that while they stress the vital importance to Canada of expanding our exports, none of them have so far advocated the only manner in which this can be brought about, which is by sharp lowering, better still by the complete elimination, of Canadian tariffs which hinder, curtail and strangle the importation of foreign goods and commodities into Canada, and so automatically hinder, curtail and strangle the exportation of our agricultural and other products. The redistribution of wealth proposed by some, the granting of credits and subsidies and guaranteed prices, the setting up of Import and Export Boards, and even the concluding of trade agreements with other countries, entirely fail to meet the issue.

The percentage of the working people of Canada who are engaged in industries which could not continue to function unless they have high tariff protection, is but a small part of all the workers of Canada. To maintain this small group of people in industries for which Canada is not suitable, imposes a most serious and costly burden on the rest of the people, besides sharply curtailing the exports of all products, goods and commodities that Canada produces in excess of her own requirements.

According to recent rulings debts for fuel, repairs, seed grain advances and arrears in taxes which were piled up by wartime farmers in the drought and depression years will be considered as legitimate farm expenses in 1944 if paid in that year, and will be allowed as an income tax exemption.

JUST PLAIN SENSE!

The Canadian people have made a magnificent contribution to the common victory in Europe.

The Liberal administration can say with honesty and justice:

This is the Government which has directed Canada's war effort at home and abroad.

This is the Government which during the war worked out a program of full employment and social reform.

These things are now a matter of record and of common knowledge.

On the basis of its record the choice of Prime Minister King's party to form the next Government of Canada is a matter of just plain sense!

TREATMENT FOR ARTHRITIS URGED IN B.C. LEGISLATURE

Peel Landman, M.P., has introduced a bill in the B.C. Legislature to provide for the treatment of arthritis. The bill is titled "The Arthritis Treatment Act." It provides for the establishment of a fund to be used for the treatment of arthritis. The fund is to be financed by a levy on the income of persons who are afflicted with arthritis. The bill also provides for the appointment of a committee to oversee the fund and to make recommendations to the government regarding the treatment of arthritis.

It would appear that Dr. Green's bill, which provides for the treatment of arthritis, is the only one of its kind in the world. The bill is a landmark in the history of arthritis treatment. The Canadian maple syrup production this season was only 25 to 30 per cent of normal, the lowest in the last 100 years. The very production is attributed to the fact that in the ground during the early spring and the recent frosty weather which struck central Canada late in March.

Little hope is given for a substantial wheat crop in France this season. The harvested land was in poor condition. Little fuel available for mechanical cultivation and a great deal of livestock had been taken away by the Germans.

COUGH GRASS CONQUERED

Cough grass, once one of the most troublesome weeds in Alberta has met its master in the form of the one-way disc. By means of this implement the infested land can be given a shallow cultivation which will eliminate the top growth and starve out the weeds. This method is economical and effective. In addition, the roots of the plant are left in the ground to decompose and add fertility to the soil. Cultivation should commence about the middle of June advises H.J. Mather who is provincial supervisor of weed control. The discs of the tiller must be sharp and the machine properly adjusted. If a heavy growth of grass is present the disc should be mowed before cultivation. Six or seven operations with the one-way disc at intervals of two weeks will kill cough grass. In the year following the field should be seeded to barley at 2 to 2½ bushels per acre in order to crowd out weakened cough grass plants which might remain.

The Canadian Prices Board is working out a plan, in co-operation with the tailoring trade, to ensure that demobilized personnel may purchase suits without delay after their discharge.

FULL EMPLOYMENT AT FAIR WAGES
is the Foundation of all True Progress

"The people of this nation are tired of the delay in correcting the weaknesses that have developed in our system . . . We must correct these obvious weaknesses in the economy we have, by rationalizing it—not by wrecking it. We must maintain the system which gives full play to individual initiative, and a fair return to all legitimate enterprise which provides employment; and the State, by just laws relating to workers, must see to it that at no time shall there fail to be provided the opportunity for a fair day's pay for a fair day's work for every one of our fellow-citizens in this Dominion who is able and willing to work."

John Bracken

We mean to see that every Canadian citizen able to work has the opportunity to work at fair pay.

- RATIONAL REFORM
- MAXIMUM PRODUCTION THROUGH THE FULL DEVELOPMENT OF OUR NATURAL RESOURCES
- FULL EMPLOYMENT AT FAIR WAGES

These are the pledges of the Progressive Conservative Party.

For full employment embracing all Canadians of every Province,

WE WILL:

- Help individual and co-operative enterprise to increase employment by revising crippling tax systems, by removing controls and regulations which slow down the expansion of legitimate enterprise, and by improving relationships between the Government, Labour and Management;
- Establish a National Development Board responsible for plans for full production and employment, as well as the preservation of our natural resources;

- Increase our trade by establishing an Export Board, by aggressive salesmanship abroad, by continuation of mutual aid until no longer necessary and by provision of trade credits to economically backward countries;
- See that the powers of the Bank of Canada are used to supply ample credit for an expanding economy;
- Undertake a carefully planned programme of socially desirable projects, such as low-cost rural and urban housing, rural electrification, conservation and reforestation, the development of natural resources—all on a national basis.

These Progressive Conservative policies are carefully and confidently pointed at a practical national objective—the realization in our time of an age of plenty.

Only the Progressive Conservative Party, with its far-sighted policies for the co-operative development of every part of Canada to new heights of prosperity—a prosperity in which ALL Canadians shall share fairly and honorably—only this Party faces the challenge of the future with abiding confidence in the ultimate realization of the practical objectives embodied in its practical policies for full employment at fair wages.

EXERCISE YOUR FRANCHISE ON JUNE 11TH

Next Monday, June 11th is the day set for casting your vote in the Canadian general election, and polls will be open in the morning at 8:00 o'clock, and close at 6:00 o'clock in the evening. This should allow ample time to cast your ballot.

The task of "Winning the Peace" will require a strong and stable government. It should not have to be dependent on another group for a balance of power. We will not attempt to urge upon our readers to vote for any one candidate or party. That is the responsibility of the voter himself. What we do urge is that every voter make a careful study of the issues, decide upon a choice of candidate or party, and get out on polling day, June 11th.

It has been pointed out that in the last federal election some three million voters across Canada neglected to exercise their franchise.
This should not happen next Monday. And it won't happen if everyone capable of getting to a polling booth, will do so between the hours stated above.

FISHERMEN BATTLE WITH LARGE OCTOPUS

Vancouver—R.J. Wallenius reported recently that while fishing with his wife and 2-year-old daughter he waged a half-hour battle with an octopus having tentacles four feet long. The struggle with the octopus occurred in Horseshoe Bay, ten miles north of Vancouver.

He caught the octopus on the fishing line but the octopus kept coming after the fish after it was shaken from the line. The octopus put its tentacles around a small motor-boat that came to the rescue of Wallenius. The two men then hammered the tentacles until the octopus let go and disappeared under the water.

CANADA CARRIES ON WAR PRODUCTION

Canada's war job is by no means done. Aircraft and ship-building factories will continue their high rate of deliveries indefinitely, the only major change being in the types of craft. Production of transfer planes will be reduced, for instance, and replaced by production of the newest combat aircraft. Railway equipment will be turned out at an even higher rate. Cutbacks will occur in production of gun and small arms ammunition, chemicals and explosives, and armoured vehicles. The automotive industry will cut down on war production, but the factories will continue to be fully engaged on civilian, as well as military production.

UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA
SUMMER SESSION

The advance registration to date for the University of Alberta Summer Session is approaching the 1600 mark. Present indications are that the 1945 Summer Session will have the largest attendance in the history of the University.

BLOW-OUT DANGER
WORSE IN SUMMER

To get maximum service from their tires this summer, truck and motor car drivers are warned by the Department of Munitions and Supply to check and correct inflations at regular intervals. This is especially important with the approach of hot summer weather, when the tread and casing become much hotter in use and are thus more vulnerable to abuse. The strength of the casing is greatly reduced when continuously overheated, and even a short period of overheating may cause a blow-out.
Car owners who do not take proper care of their tires will only aggravate the tire shortage.

SHELTER BELTS

The majority of prairie farmers who have planted shelter belts are convinced that the benefits resulting therefrom more than pay for the time and labour involved in planting and maintaining these tree belts. The influence of a shelter belt on snow accumulation may extend to 75 feet when the trees are from seven to ten feet high.
Increased crops of grain may be expected up to a distance of 200 feet to the lee side of a shelter belt and to as much as five bushels per acre.

V-3 NEVER GOT A CHANCE

V-3, the Germans' third vengeance weapon was a rocket-bomb with a range of many thousands of miles—a big enough range to carry it across the Atlantic. Said John A.
Marsh, Special Assistant to the Department of Munitions and Supply.
"If the German rocket-bomb plan had been six months further advanced, the British were prepared to admit that the war in Europe would have lasted 11 years."

Use Solar Energy

Russian Scientists Make Solar Rays Serve National Economy

The Soviet Academy of Sciences has set up a special commission for investigating the uses of solar energy in industry. Soviet scientists have already designed numerous devices to make the solar rays serve the national economy.

The founder of Soviet heliotechnology, Professor Weinberg, has built machinery for boiling water, for hot-houses and for distilling vegetables and fruit. The first solar kitchen and solar reflector for medical purposes have been constructed in Alma Ata, the capital of Soviet Kazakhstan. Central Asia. Solar baths and laundries have also proved a success.

In Turkmenia, baths are heated by solar installations on the roofs. In summer these installations raise the temperature of water up to 80 or 90 degrees centigrade.

The first solar refrigerators have been tested. With the outside temperature at 40 degrees centigrade the refrigerators maintain a temperature of 2 degrees below zero. The sun's heat is now being used in this way in the Republics of Central Asia and the North Caucasus on the Black Sea coast and in the Southern Ussuri.

Disclosure Of Story Of German Spies In Canada

For more than six years, since 1939 when the world was at peace, Canadian officials have kept secret what may have been Germany's first big attempt to establish an espionage base on the shores of the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Surrender of the Germans has permitted disclosure of this story, but it was reported many attempts were made by the Germans to place spies in Canada during the period when the Germans roved the deep into the St. Lawrence.

It was at Barabach, Que., not long before the war started and about the time a German syndicate was trying to purchase Anticosti island, that two timid-looking and apparently fishing bent Germans purchased an abandoned farm house.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police, always alert for espionage activity, first became suspicious when the two Germans started to make large purchases of foodstuffs.

Then one day the Germans mailed a package to an address in Mexico. It was reported that the Mounties got in touch with the federal bureau of investigation in Washington and learned that the Mexican address was that of a widely-suspected German agent.

Inside the package was a chart of Gaspe waters with the location of the fisher cottage and other information printed out by a pin in a sort of double code.

The two men were arrested and it has not been made clear what became of them. One report said they were handed over to the FBI for use in tracing other agents.

The Mounties even today maintain silence on the subject.

Veterinary Authorities Say Many Horse Owners Do Not Know Symptoms

Horses have severe toothaches just as human beings do, but the horse as a rule has to suffer without being able to get relief. The trouble is, say veterinary authorities, that the average horse owner does not know the symptoms. Here are a few of them: the horse may eat more slowly than usual, leave part of his meal uneaten, shake his head from side to side, jerk his head from the trough when starting to drink or make more than the usual objection to leading.

FUTURE FOR PALESTINE

Palestine is now the home of 1,035,154 inhabitants. The world-wide Zionist movement is working on a project which would allow this ancient country to again become fertile and raise its population to between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000.

Since the beginning of the war, three Jewish rabbis serving with the U.S. and Canadian forces have been killed in action. Others have been wounded or taken prisoners.

Winston Churchill Was In Serious Plane Accident Some Years Ago

In the summer of 1919 Winston Churchill had his most serious plane crash accident. During an evening flight from Croydon, after a long day at the War Office, he was at the controls and found the machine not responding. At no more than 50 feet above the ground it began to side-slip. It struck the ground with terrific force, its propeller and nose plunging into the earth and its left wing crumpling. Churchill was badly bruised but was able to get out of the shattered fuselage and go to the aid of his companion, who was bleeding and senseless.

TOYS FOR ORPHANS

When the appeal for toys for orphans went out to the personnel of East Moor, R.C.A.F. Station, England, LAC Arthur Bailey, an electrician, quickly organized the other men in his section and together they turned out 150 toys. He himself won a prize of a pound for the best toy made, which he donated to the Prisoners' War Fund.

Ceremony Was Brief

Field Marshal Montgomery Wasted No Time Over German Surrender

The surrender of army, navy and air forces to the number of about 1,000,000 men, together with all their equipment and impedimenta to Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, was one of the greatest events in all history, and the reports state that it was accomplished with extraordinary brevity.

Field Marshal Montgomery is the son of a bishop, but he is one of the toughest, most relentless hard-boiled soldiers the world has ever known. We relished the way he treated the German supplicants for surrender. He acted as if he was in a hurry to get on with his job and he had no time to waste on pleasantries. "What do you want," he snapped when they appeared in his tent. When he said they would surrender if he would also take the German armies fighting on the Eastern front he replied: "No, certainly not. . . . They have nothing to do with me. You go surrender to the Soviet commander. The subject is closed."

The Germans wanted some guarantees about the future. Monty spoke again: "No, I will not discuss what I propose to do in the future. Nothing." Then he added: "If you do not agree, then I will go on with the war, and I will be delighted to do so. All your soldiers and civilians will be killed."

That was all. The Nazis could no more squeeze terms out of him than they could squeeze blood out of a stone. Less than five minutes after they met, talked and signed, Monty left the tent grinning. It was the end of a long, long trail that began near Cairo, ran through Libya and Tunisia to Italy, back to England, across the Channel across France and into Germany itself.

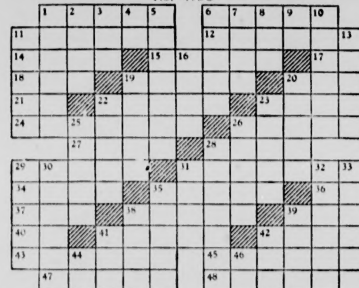

No wonder he grinned. St. Thomas Times Journal.

It is poor practice to apply putty to bare wood. A priming coat of paint applied to the wood first will make the putty adhere better and it is not necessary for the paint to be thoroughly dry before the putty is applied. Painting over the putty after the job is done will help the filler to 'stay put'.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

For Women There's Waiting

By MARCIA DAUGHTREY
McClure Newspaper Syndicate

The report was brought in to the general, who, more diplomat than martinet, liked to handle such things personally. In effect, the field workers claimed that the area over which man-eaters for his corps were to be held had been provided by eager farmers. Much of the land was not under cultivation; it possessed the desired hillocks, streams, rocky terrain; it was inaccessible to the curious.

"There's just this one hitch—right?" he said to his aide.

"Yes, sir. It seems this farm wife—in the middle of the area—absolutely refuses to let us use this wooded section." He indicated a district on the contour map. "She's a mite of a woman. No bigger than this"—flattening his palm some four feet ten inches above the floor—"and she has the prettiest head of snow-white hair I've ever seen. Also, she has a Springfield with which she can smash a bottle sitting on a fence post as far as from here to the next outlying."

The general measured the distance with his eyes. His eyebrows went up, and his lower lip pouted—a habit he had. "Maybe we should draft her," he said. "Then, I'll fly down and have a talk with her. Find out what her objections are. Did you notice whether she seemed to be much of a cook?"

The aide looked puzzled. "No, sir, I didn't notice."

"If you can get a woman to make doughnuts or cookies for a bunch of hungry boys you've made an army convert," the general observed, chuckling.

There was a car waiting for him at the airport; it took him over an hour to reach the farm, which consisted of rolling hills where a herd of whitefaces were grazing, a thriving vegetable garden, a big red barn and a trig white house with a screened porch on three sides.

A cat and two dogs came to meet the general. The cat arched herself against his leg and the dogs showed an inclination to kiss his face. "What kind of guard duty is this?" he demanded gruffly, scratching behind his ears.

Not until he reached the door did the dogs set up a furor while the cat climbed the screen and clung there. A small woman, wearing a blue and white apron, came out on the porch. "I don't want anything," she said, her black eyebrows drawn together in a fierce scowl. "Be on your way before I give you a round for trespassing."

"I'm not selling anything. I simply want to talk to you."

"What kind of uniform you wearing?"

"You another one of these army pests?"

He inhaled deeply of the aroma coming from the kitchen. "Fresh bread! It's been years since I had a bit of fresh bread!"

"If you think you can get around here by sweet talking, you've got another thing a coming. Step lively—don't let all the flies in," she ordered. She poured milk into a tall tumbler and handed it to the general. "Here, she placed a pat of butter on a blue plate, added hot rolls and home-made grape jelly. "There," she said, bringing her lips tightly together, "that's better than you'll get in any officers' mess."

Between bites the general said, "I suppose you know I've come about using your grove during man-eaters'."

"I gave my answer to that young fellow—the one with a mustache. I said No."

"Because I don't believe in war."

"That's a fine crop of potatoes you have in your garden," the general observed munching with relish. "Did the plants come up just of their own accord?"

"I hope you know more about tactics than you do about vegetables," the woman snorted. "I planted them."

"So you have to plant them every season. They just don't grow of themselves from year to year. Have any trouble with bugs?"

"Ever see a potato patch without its bugs? Sure I have to fight bugs. Sometimes I have web worms to contend with, too."

"Well, there it is," the general said calmly. "Liberty and the theory of individual dignity aren't hard perennials. They have to be cultivated each new generation. About every twenty-five years the crop is threatened by a scourge of insects that have to be stamped out. I want to bring a couple of divisions of men in here to practice the stamping out process."

The little woman poured another glass of milk for the general. "You're a smart talker," she admitted, her voice husky. "If I say yes, can I ride along in one of those armored cars I saw in the newspaper?"

"It's against the regulations, of course. Still, in gratitude for the use of your land, I might arrange for you to take a ride Sunday before man-eaters start." He arose and shook hands. "Sunday, then at ten."

The little woman watched the general's car kick up a cloud of dust on the road before she walked briskly back into her parlor. On the mantel were three pictures of men in uniform.

"You," she said to the eldest, "went off to the Philippines and left me with three children to bring up. And you, son, ran away and joined up to get to France. And you, third-generation dinesetter, wouldn't let me rest until I let you go to Pensacola. For men there's excitement and change and novelty in this Army business. For women there's just waiting and loneliness and heart-hunger. But here's one woman to beat the game. I'm going to get some excitement out of this fracas by riding in one of those Army bugs if it's the last thing I ever do."

"Him," I said had to hold out a long time before I got together with the man who could fix it up. I certainly did."

Expensive Drink

Paid Penny For Some Distilled Water Used For Car Batteries

A woman car owner, allowed a small ration of petrol for work, of national importance, bought some distilled water for topping up her batteries. The water was contained in two tin bottles, bearing the label of a well known proprietary brand, and these she left lying on the back seat of her car while she went into the other shop to make some purchases.

When she came out the bottles were gone, and in their place was a slip of paper bearing this inscription, hastily scribbled in pencil: "Sorry but we really do need it." Pinned to the slip of paper was a 1s treasury note.—Leeds Yorkshire Post.

The B-2 Superfortress has 149 electric motors, over ten miles of electric wiring, and a mile-and-a-half of tubing.

Doorn Castle

Reporter Pays Visit To The Place Where The Kaiser Lived In Exile (By Maurice Desjardins)

Doorn, Holland, is a little city of 5,000 and is one of the best known in the world, for here stands the stately "Huize Doorn" where the late Kaiser chopped and saved away in a slate-roofed shed until he died here June 4, 1941.

Janter Armand Labouchere, a Dutchman, French Huguenot descent, showed me through the palace grounds.

First we visited the famous woodshed, then the guest house, where two priceless Watsons still hang in the crown prince's room. Across a moat on the right side of the castle squats a square mausoleum where the emperor's body lies in a red velvet coffin.

I was the first Allied war correspondent to visit the palace and probably the first newspaperman of all time, for Doorn was no tourist place, but a haven of privacy.

The castle has not been lived in since the Kaiser's death, but every one of scores of expensive clocks there still keep exact time.

Labouchere, a retired Doorn policeman, ushered me into the reception hall where the furniture and Gobelin tapestries are relics of the time of Frederick the Great.

The Nazis left Doorn alone during their occupation of the Netherlands. Only a few officers visited here for the majority were afraid they'd be accused of making a pilgrimage to the Hohenzollern shrine.

There are bigger-than-life-size pictures of the Kaiser hanging in every room in the palace.

In the rooms are objects worth millions of dollars: jewels, vases, armor, marble chairs, Sevres vases and exquisite miniatures.

I also saw the emperor's den and the saddle he used to sit on while writing letters.

There is truly regal luxury in every apartment which leaves one gasping. Half a dozen good Mercedes-Benz limousines are standing in the garage in running order, to be used by no one knows who. Labouchere says even the Dutch government, which appointed him to the janitor post, has not decided who will be the next tenant of the "Huize Doorn."

What Electricity Is Expected To Do

On Big Bombers

Electricity showed a big bomber called upon to perform the following tasks: Start the engines, change the propeller pitch, raise and lower the landing gear, open and close the bomb bay doors, manipulate the flaps and brakes, turn the bombights, release the bombs, turn the gun turrets, compute the gunners sights, fire the guns, detect and identify ground units by radar waves, and provide light and heat for the crew.

FOREST FIRE LOSS

The greatest loss occurring in forest fires is not the destruction of mature trees, but the ruin of young growth, and charring of the forest floor, since much of the older timber still can be utilized.

GARDEN NOTES

Shrubby Flowers

An amazing showing can be made with a few annual flowers and with a little effort. Cinerarias, giant marigolds, zinnias, petunias, portulaca, nasturtium, alyssum are easily grown almost anywhere in Canada. Some of the larger flowers like cosmos and marigolds and nasturtium can actually be used in the place of shrubs.

Time can be saved, of course, by buying ready-staked bedding plants. For bushy growth, tall cosmos, gladiolus, dahlias, giant marigolds and zinnias should have about 2 feet each way. Petunias need about a foot apart for best results.

Keep It Up

Planting, cultivation is vital of course to prepare the soil deeply and properly for seeds and plants. But the beginner will make a great mistake if he stops all cultivation once the seeds have germinated and the plants start growing. Then it will pay handsomely in fresh, tender vegetables and abundant bloom if one makes a practice of a quick going over the garden with a light cultivator once a week. This will keep growth going and will conserve moisture. With constant cultivation it is possible to grow good vegetables almost anywhere in the weather, and it is amazing how easily and quickly the job is performed. The soil does not get a chance to bake and the weeds to really get established.

For Support

Staking is useful for tall plants, or those trimmed tall like tomatoes. Big tall perennials like delphiniums and hollyhocks are quite liable to feel over in a high wind or during a sharp thunder shower and will make the whole garden look a mess. Stakes about an inch thick and wide, and as tall as necessary will hold these flowers and also trained tomatoes firmly in place. They need not be conspicuous if driven in behind the plants and they can always be stained brown or green. Plants should be tied to them loosely with soft twine or raffia.

GROWTH IS RAPID

Asparagus grows as much as six inches in a day. It must be picked every day quickly because it grows so fast in warm weather. Stalks a few inches above the ground at daybreak must be picked by noon, or they become too tough and coarse to make the best quality.

It is common to men to err; but it is only a fool that perseveres in his error; a wise man alters his opinion, a fool never.

An Evil Philosophy

The Last For Military Power In Germany Must Be Eradicated

The Hitlerite foe has been defeated on the field of battle. But Hitlerism as an evil philosophy still remains to be exterminated. The war will have been in vain if Hitlerism survives Hitler.

It will be a long and difficult task. After the last war, the people of the Allied world thought they had conquered what was then known as Prussian militarism when the German armies capitulated. "Prussian militarism" was a phrase which really denoted the German lust for power, it was not conquered.

Almost before the ink on the Treaty of Versailles was dry, the Germans were thinking of the next war for power. The Junkers, the intellectual, the riff raff and the discontented began to lay plans. Then Hitler came on the scene, and in ten years had risen from an obscure no-account to be the chancellor of Germany.

As soon as his real character was revealed, which was immediately after he came to power, he became the focal centre for the apprehensions of free mankind. He began to suppress, then he began to attack. He raved and ranted over the radio until his voice became the symbol of violence and fear. He is gone now, but it is well to remember that the real enemy was not this misfit, this essentially cheap rabble-rouser, but the ideas he represented.

Hitler called himself fighter. But he was in fact the servant of the forces of evil in Germany which hoped to gain power by his office. He talked of Aryanism, of blood and soil, of race purity, Lebensraum and similar nonsensical conceptions. But his single aim was power, and his single goal the elevation of the German people to the role of "master race."

It is this evil creed that has to be eliminated. There must be a purge of Germany. Far more drastic treatment of that nation which has tempted and tempted to demand than any yet receiving official approval. The blood and rubble that is now Germany must be cleaned for the last time. Ottawa Citizen.

End Was Appropriate

History Has Been Written In Disintegration Of Germany

This is an inglorious end as history could write—but an appropriate end for a Government that was born in a beer hall, whose bible was written in a prison cell by a man found guilty of treason—a Government which operated without ideals and had as its fundamental purpose loot and murder. This disintegration we have witnessed cannot be distorted by another Goebbels. History has been written. This time too plainly to be changed. Let the beginning of Nazism stand forever as a warning. Let its obscene end be remembered as a lesson. New York Times.

ON BOTH SIDES

H. R. Knickerbocker, war correspondent, says that last time he was in Italy he dined with a group which included an Italian nobleman of some minor distinction. Eventually the conversation turned towards the course of the conflict. "But my dear fellow," said the Italian, who affected a British manner and accent, "you cannot possibly know as much about the war as we do. You see, we have been on both sides!"—Wall Street Journal.

New Flying Boat

Planning To Build Largest One Ever Produced In Britain

Blackburn Aircraft Company has plans for the largest flying-boat ever built in Britain. The six-engined aircraft would weigh 134 tons—more than six times as much as the RAF's Sunderland—and have a wing span of 292 feet. It would carry up to 160 passengers or 90,000 pounds of freight.

Top speed would be more than 300 miles an hour and normal cruising speed 260 miles at 15,000 feet. A pressurized cabin would be provided for passenger comfort.

BEEF CALF CLUBS GATHER AT YELLOWLEES FARM

A large number of adults and junior beef calf club members attended the fourth annual beef calf club field day held at Mr. David Yellowlees farm at Acme on Saturday.

The clubs taking part were West Didsbury, Carstairs, Grainger and Madden.

After the judging of three classes of Shorthorns, i.e. spring calves, cows and yearling bulls, John Yel-lowlees gave an excellent demonstration of washing and grain-mixing. A Shorthorn calf and instructed the members with a few pointers in the art of showmanship.

The guests then assembled on the lawn where Mr. Hugh McPhail, supervisor of junior calf clubs called on the leaders of each club, Mr.
James Hughes, Didsbury; Mr. Wm.
McDonald; Grainger, Mr. Clem
Sheehan, Carstairs; and Mr. Jesse Havens, Madden, who each in turn said they enjoyed giving their support to their respective clubs and voiced the thanks of all for the hospitality shown by the Yellowlees family.

Among other speakers were Mr.
Wm. Scarth, our district agriculturalist, Mr. Bell, district agriculturalist from Drumheller, and Mr. How-ther, crop supervisor from Peace River. The latter spoke on the advantages that would be gained if grain and beef clubs would combine as he considered the two went hand in hand.

Mr. James Murray, principal of the O.S.A., spoke to the juniors. He said they were fortunate in being club members as it helped development of their character. He stressed the importance of common courtesy, stating good manners were being considerate of others.

He related having seen a sign at the exhibit of the Bowden Airport which read, "Take a look at yourself, others have to see you," and he appealed to them to be neat in appearance.

Messes, Grayburn, Dunning and Banham were present, representing the Calgary Kiwanis Club.
They reported to Mr. McPhail that they were increasing their prize money to the clubs to $125.

A very enjoyable and educational afternoon was ended by a bounusious lunch. The way the large tray stacked with Mrs. Yellowlees' Scotch scones disappeared was evident that they were just as much appreciated as having the opportunity of inspecting Mr. Yellow-lees' fine herd of Scotch Shorthorns.

Prizes in judging will be awarded at the calf club sale on July 16, which will probably be held again at the Munro farm east of Carstairs.

The adults from Didsbury attending were Mr. J. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robertson, Miss Jean Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kinloch, Mr. and Mrs. D. Kimmel, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Wait.

gary where he attended a United Church conference.
